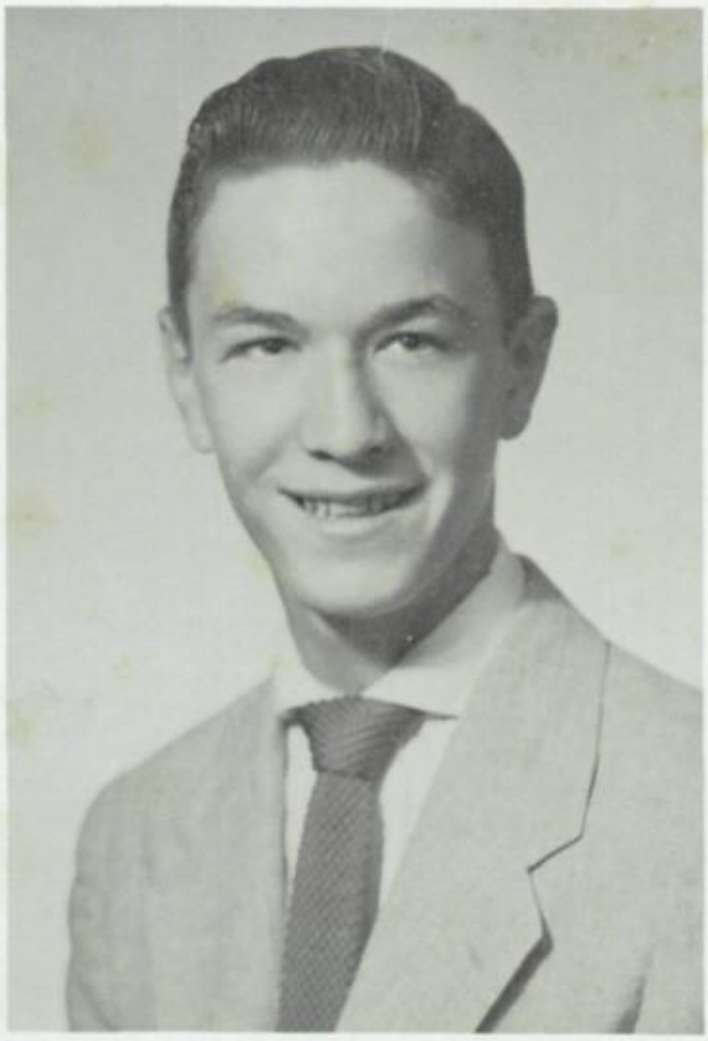
Dear Diary: Dedication



We, the class of 1982, in appreciation for the dedication shown to the students, both during class and in extra-curricular activities dedicate the 58th edition of the Caryatid to Mr. Ronald Souply.

During the twenty years Mr. Souply has been teaching at Carey High School he has taught English, math, science, and history courses. Don't be surprised if you leave the classes he teaches knowing the subject, but also knowing about his life in Pennsylvania and his family.

Mr. Souply is also a part-time guidance counselor, for which he has received a Master's Degree. With this he gets the fun job of helping the students figure out which classes to take and fitting them in a schedule, plus counseling them in other areas.

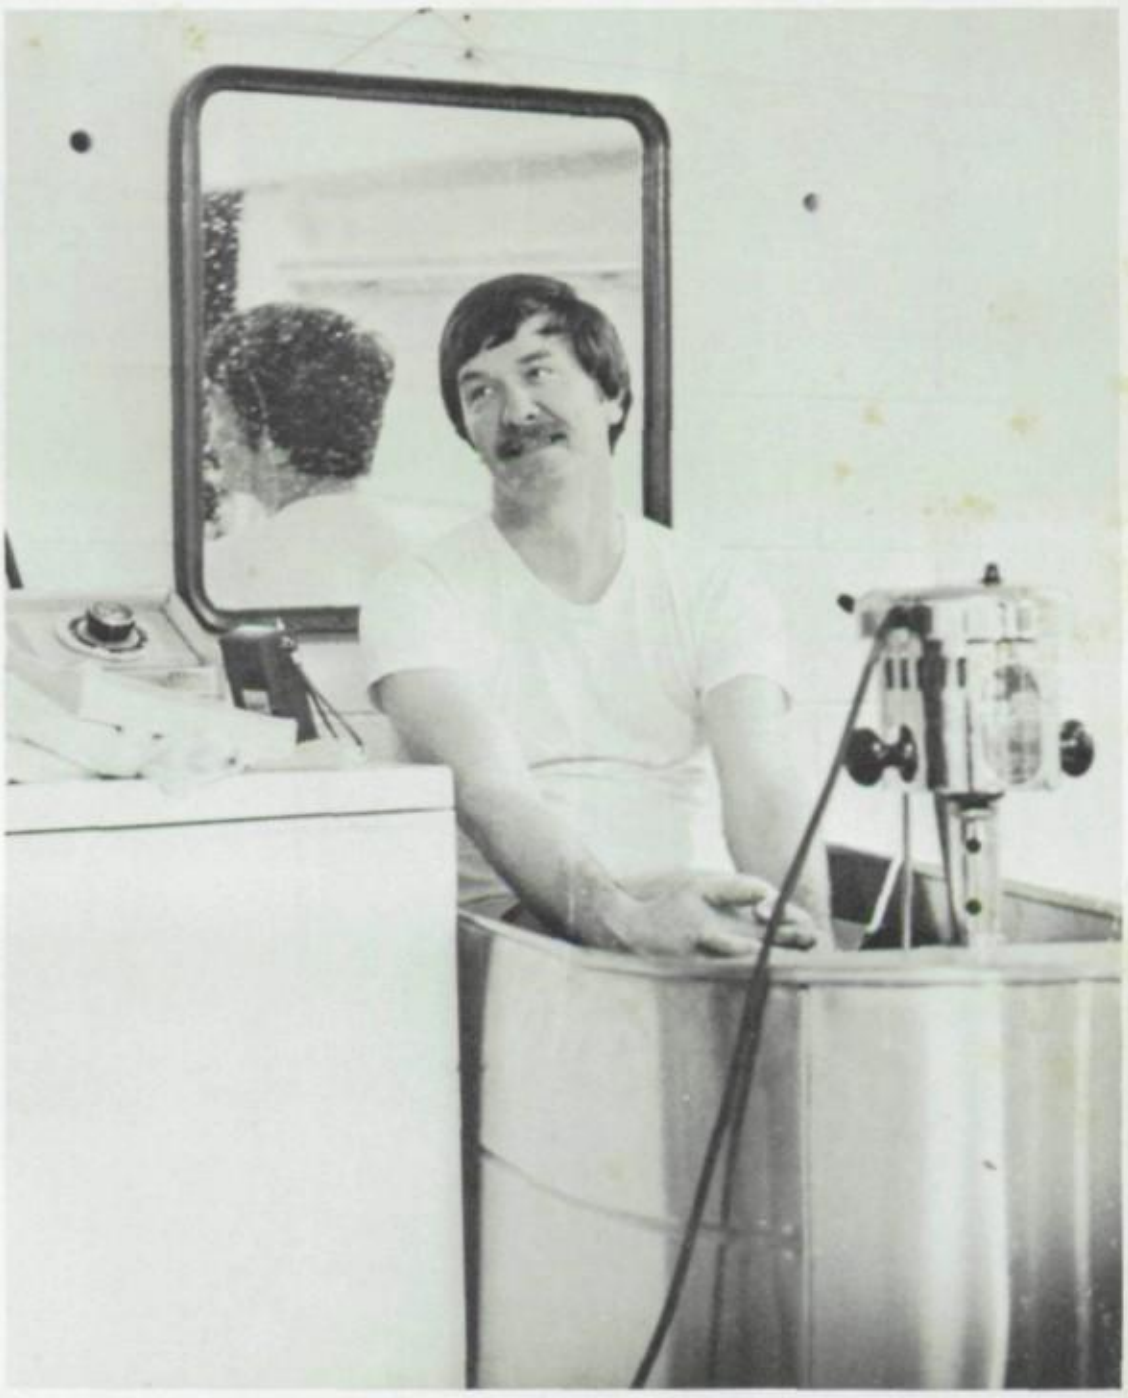
He has also been involved with various sports during his life. He wrestled while in college and is now a wrestling referee (usually honored with being a ref at state tournaments). At CHS he has coached track and Junior High football, along with being active in assisting with intramural sports.

Thank you, Mr. Souply, for taking the time to share your many talents and stories with the students at Carey High School. It is quite evident that you have made an extra effort in your contributions to CHS.

The Class of 1982

Same old expression!

Where's my rubber ducky?



A Big Mac sure would taste good!

Mr. Souply attended Findlay College where he received a Bachelor of Arts Degree. He has 182 students in his Math and Science classes.

Dear Diary: Remember ?!?

... When Biology class disected pigs, then had pork for lunch.

... Making Ohio History scrapebooks in seventh grade.

... Taking showers for the first time in school.

... Sherri Hackworth had a crush on Skip Fabiani.

... When Rachel Richards had romantic dreams about Mr. K.

... That stop light at the end of Clay Street that we forgot to look at, Lorrie Romans.

... When we got lost in the big town of Adrian, Lora Withrow.

... When two helpless old ladies turned into two wild teenagers, Rachel Richards and Nancy Springer.

... When Shelley Driggers and Philip Lortz pretended they were married in fourth grade.

... Brenda Schuler's slumber party in eighth grade and then boom-boom-out went the lights!

... When Eileen O'Flaherty had a Crush on Mr. Gralak.

... The night after the first football game, Marty Messmer? What fun!

... How much we learned about the "Pennsylvania Era" in Mr. Souply's history class.

... The "interesting" magazines we looked at on the way to D.C.

... How the Nells got their names.

... When 6'6" Fritz Kin played a munchkin in the Wizard of Oz.

... When Gary Collet used to talk duck language — Quack, Quack.

... Bill Kitzler's disco directing.

... When Janet Dubois' "dad" directed band.

... How adorable Abby Baldridge looked with false eyelashes on.

... When Dave Toland had to kiss all the girls in first grade.

... When Christie Duncan had a crush on Mr. Douglas.

... When Joyce Arnold had so many boyfriends she didn't know what to do: J.W., A.W., T.B., T.H... ?

... When Karen O'Flaherty kept track of her own points during the game.
